The specific work or tasks performed by the service animal for the benefit of the individual must be directly related to the individual’s disability.

    • Service Animals are generally permitted to accompany the individual with a disability to University facilities where members of the public, students, staff, and faculty are allowed to go.

    • The University may ask the individual with a disability to remove a Service Animal from any of its facilities if: (1) the Service Animal is out of control and the individual with a disability does not take effective action to control it; and/or (2) the Service Animal is not housebroken. The University may also ask the individual with a disability to remove a Service Animal from any of its facilities if the use or presence of the Service Animal poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others or if the animal’s behavior, such as barking, is unreasonably disruptive to the other participants within the facility.
• The University may impose legitimate health or safety requirements on the presence of a Service Animal that are necessary for safe operation of its facilities. There are some facilities, or areas within facilities, that are not safe for the presence of Service Animals.

➢ Owners are responsible for ensuring that the volume of their animals is not disruptive to other residents. This includes barking, whining, meowing, squeaking, squawking, talking, etc. Animals deemed disruptive to other residents are subject to removal from University housing.

  ▪ If a pet attacks/bites anyone or is determined by appropriate University Staff to be dangerous, abandoned, neglected, or a nuisance the animal is subject to immediate removal from the community.
  ▪ Residential laundry rooms are not to be used for cleaning animal bedding or clothing. Owners wishing to wash these items should visit a commercial laundry facility off-campus or take the items home.

  ➢ Termination of Housing Contract: A student may be removed from a residence hall or apartment. The student’s access to specific living or dining areas may be restricted as part of the sanction.

❖ If you receive a disciplinary sanction of removal from on-campus housing, you must leave within the time frame stated in the conduct sanction letter following formal acceptance of that decision by the DOR. If you appeal the decision, you may be reassigned to another living space on-campus, pending the outcome of the appeal. Your original space will not be reassigned until the completion of the appeal process.

❖ The DOR staff, OSC Administrator, or the Dean of Students may order that a student be immediately removed from university housing when the student’s continued presence constitutes an ongoing risk to property and/or to the safety and well-being of other students in the community. The student will receive a written notice stating the reasons for the interim removal and the time and place of the hearing to be held within two business days. The hearing will be before the Dean of Students. At the time of the hearing, the university shall show probable cause why interim removal from university housing is warranted, and the student shall have the opportunity to show why interim removal from university housing is not warranted.
  ➢ The following are considered risks to the safety and well-being of other students in the

You will also be charged the daily rate until you officially check-out. Charges for damages, cleaning, and improper check-out may be imposed.

❖ Appeals: If you want to appeal this conduct decision, you must submit through the DOR Appeal Form within seven calendar days from the date of conduct decision.

➢ A student may appeal based on one or more of the following limited grounds:
   1. Substantial procedural error that materially affected the outcome;
   2. The decision was arbitrary and capricious or constituted an abuse of discretion;
   3. There is new evidence presented that was not reasonably available at the time of the hearing and is relevant to establishing whether it is more likely than not the respondent is responsible for the violation; and/or
